FEET.

A plump little foot as white as the snow,
Belonging to rollicking, frolicsome Joe,
In a little red sock, with a hole in the toe,
And a hole in the heel as well.

A trim little foot in a trim little shoe,
Belonging to sixteen-year-old Miss Sue,
And looking as if it knew just what to do,
And do it in a way that would tell

A very large foot in a homely array,
Belonging to Peter who follows the dray,
So big that it sometimes is in its own way
And moves with the speed of a snail.

Ah! a very big thing is the human foot,
In dainty made shoe or in clumsy boot,
So 'tis well there are various tastes to suit,
And that fashion can't always prevail.

The plump little foot—a beautiful sight—
And the trim little foot, so taper and slight,
And the very large foot, though much of a flight,
Are traveling all the same road.

And it matters but little how small or how great,
So they never grow weary of paths that are straight,
And at last walk in at the golden gate
Of the city whose builder is God.
—Evangelist.

Explaining a Prevalent Belief.

A superstition very prevalent among workingmen is the injurious effect supposed to be exercised by the sun's rays falling upon their tools. The best tools made for use in tropical countries are subjected to exactly the same amount of tempering as those made for home use, although they are to be used under a greater heat.

A heat greater than any which reaches this earth from the sun would be required to affect them.

No metallic or other matter is equally susceptible to heat as the sand of Arabia, the bed of the desert of Sahde, in India, is composed. It has been found heated by the sun to almost 200 degrees F. But to affect the temper of steel more than double this temperature is required. In the steel used for a lancet the temperature of the metal must be brought to 430 degrees, in razors and surgical instruments to 450 degrees, in penknives to 470 degrees, in scissors and chisels to 490 degrees, in axes, planes and pocketknives to 510 degrees, in table knives and large shears to 530 degrees, in swords and watch springs to 550 degrees, in fine saws and augers to 560 degrees and for hand and pit saws to 600 degrees, or to three times the greatest heat of the sun felt on this earth.

At 800 to 350 degrees soft steel and iron become much deteriorated in power to resist percussive action and strain, but their temperature can never be raised to such a degree as this by the heat of the sun. —New York Herald.

Rameau and the Dog.

Many eccentricities are pardoned in musical geniuses, especially by those who do not suffer from them. Unfortunately the object of a musician's wrath is quite apt to be unable to appreciate why he has offended.

One can fancy the possessor of the untrained voice who figures in the following story thinking hard things of the celebrated composer Rameau.

One day Rameau while calling on a lady fixed a stern glance on a little dog who sat in her lap and was barking good naturedly. Suddenly Rameau seized the poor little fellow and threw him out of the window.

"What is the matter?" asked his hostess, much alarmed.

"He barked false!" said Rameau indignantly.—Youth's Companion.

An Oversight.

"See here," said satan to his friend Beelzebub, "we have overreached ourselves. You insisted that we must put into the brain of man to invent instruments for his destruction, and we have so done. Man has made gatling guns, mitrailleuse, chain shot, giant powder, dynamite—every day he effects some new combination which insures greater destructiveness."

"Well, then," said Beelzebub, "all is well."

"What a fool you are!" sneered satan, with asperity. "Don't you see that we have made war so costly that these manikins won't fight?"

"Ah," said Beelzebub in despair, "why didn't I reflect that these people are always calculating expenses."—Kate Field's Washington

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1894.

REPUBLICAN CHARGES UNFOUNDED

Several persons met in secret conclave in Reno and organized a Republican Club. Their right to do this is undisputed though political organizations which fear the light of day have always been looked upon with suspicion. The first intimation the public had of the organization was through the JOURNAL, which was informed by an old resident of Reno, formerly a Republican, that he was refused admission to the meeting. The next was from the Gazette Publishing Company which announced that the following among other resolutions, had been evolved at the meeting:

"That we, the undersigned voters of Washoe county, take steps at once looking to the organization of a Republican Club at Reno, and invite other precincts in the county to do the same; believing as we do that past and present events demand of all good citizens to be up in arms against further tariff tinkering of the party in power, which is aided and abetted by other parties clothed with less power, claiming silver as their shibboleth but in reality injuring the cause of bimetallism by their course and retarding State growth generally"

There are four politic l parties which have representatives in Congress, the Democratic, Republican, Populist and Silver party. The Democratic party is the party in power, and the other parties clothed with less power, claiming silver as their shibboleth, and, according to the resolution of the gentlemen who organized the Republican Club, aiding and abetting the party in power, and injuring the cause of bimetallism and retarding the growth of the State, must be the Silver party and the Populists.

Is there a sober, intelligent citizen of Nevada, a being capable of reasoning, who believes or has any grounds for believing that the Silver party of this State is doing or attempting to do what is alleged in the above resolution? The Silver party has two representatives in the present Congress—William M. Stewart in the Senate and Francis G. Newlands in the House of Representatives. Do Messrs. Foley, Turrittin, Fulton and the other gentlemen whose names are attached to the above resolution, believe what they charge, that Stewart and Newlands are injuring the cause of bimetallism and retarding State growth generally? Do they believe that the Populists, who, like the Silver men, advocate the cause of bimetallism are injuring that cause and retarding the growth of the State? Do they believe that the Democratic party now in power or the Republican party recently in power and now giving only thirteen votes in Congress for free coinage will remonetize silver? If they do the columns of the JOURNAL are at their service to explain why they so believe. Do they believe that advocating the cause of silver is injuring the cause of bimetallism? If they do not why charge that it is?

Is it not a fact, Messrs. Foley, Turrittin and Fulton, that silver mining is one of the great industries of the State? Is it not also a fact, and an undeniable one, that the population and taxable property of the State are decreasing because of legislation hostile to silver? Is it not, too, a fact that the prices of everything produced by Nevada farmers depreciate in the same ratio as the price of silver? Then, in the name of common sense, how does advocating the cause of silver retard the growth and prosperity of the State? Is it not generally conceded in and out of Congress by everybody but Wall Street and its aiders and abettors, that if silver is remonetized, the question must be agitated, not only in the silver producing States, but throughout the Union? Does not Senators Jones, Stewart and others in both Houses of Congress recommend that the agitation be kept up unceasingly until success is achieved? Do Messrs. Foley, Turrittin and Fulton think they know more about the silver question than those Senators and Representatives?

The Silver party of Nevada made no recommendation regarding the tariff, which, with Senators Jones and Stewart, they believe is of less importance to the country than the financial question. It makes no war against any protected industry in the State, in fact, so far as known, the members of it hope the Wilson bill will be defeated. Why then should woolgrowers at the instigation of Messrs. Foley, Turrittin, & Co. open their batteries on the Silver party and subscribe to resolutions such as that above quoted. Does it not look as if the gentlemen named wanted to pull the wool over the sheepmen's eyes and make them the catspaw to pull their chestnuts out of the fire?

The rational course for the people of Nevada to pursue is to combine against the Wall street gang, who for its own purposes is endeavoring to divide them. Silver men and farmers should make common cause in battling for the interests of the State. With silver at its old standard people will not grumble because of the tariff on wool and the other few protected articles produced in Nevada. What the Silver men are contending for would not injure any State industry, but, on the contrary, would benefit all, and, therefore, all citizens of Nevada should join hands for the welfare of the State and not permit themselves to be deceived by selfish and unscrupulous politicians.

SENATOR JONES' speech during the debate on the Repeal bill makes ninety pages of the Congressional Record and a special number has been assigned to it.

AFTER THE INSURGENTS.

The Brazilian Rebels Refuse to Respect "Old Glory."

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

A Syndicate Being Formed to Purchase Bonds.

THE BRAZILIAN INCIDENT.

Admiral Benham Warning De Gama.

RIO JANEIRO, January 31.—The American ship Amy was escorted into the harbor on Monday morning by the United States cruiser Detroit. As a precaution against possible aggressive action on the part of the Insurgents the cruisers New York, Charleston and Newark were assigned to watch the actions of Da Gama's ship, the Aquidaban, while the Detroit and San Francisco were signaled to take positions near the Trajano and Gunnabara. These precautions proved effective, and the Insurgents in the face of the formidable array of American vessels made but a feeble attempt to hinder the Amy's progress to the wharf.

No guns were opened on her by Da Gama's vessel, and, as a matter of course, the American vessels did not fire upon the Insurgent ships. The Insurgent protest consisted of this: As the Amy got abreast of the Gunabara a marine on the last-named vessel aimed a musket at her and fired, and two musket shots were fired at the Gunnabara and Trajano from the Amy's escort, the Detroit, in return. This was all the firing done during the Amy's trip and it was enough. All opposition ceased at once, and the use of heavy guns was not considered necessary at any time.

BENHAM'S STATEMENT.

"The Insurgent forces on Cobras Island last Friday fired upon a ship flying the United States flag. I protested to Admiral Da Gama against the action, and his response was that he had warned the commander of the ship, when at the bar at Rio, as to the whereabouts of the danger line. I then ordered Da Gama to cease firing.

"Both guns on the Island of Cobras and the guns of the Insurgent warship Trajano opened fire on Saturday upon the bark Agate, a vessel hailing from New York. I warned Da Gama at once that if the fire was repeated I would fire back. I also warned him if he touched an American ship or American goods I would consider him a pirate.

"I told him I would protect American property from the fire of his guns and should retaliate upon him for any damages done unless it was entirely apparent that the damage was due to chance shots."

Admiral Benham says he notified Da Gama unofficially that the firing of the Insurgents upon wharves for the purpose of merely creating terror and prolonging the blockade would not be permitted, so far as Americans and American vessels were concerned.

The Captains of American vessels intimated that they wanted to go to the wharves and the American Admiral notified Da Gama it was his intention to convey them at sunrise on Monday.

Fearing trouble, Benham ordered the vessels of his fleet cleared for action. The Captains of two of the ships weakened and failed to come into the harbor. The Amy was the only one that ventured in and she was escorted by the United States cruiser Detroit.

THE BOND ISSUE.

A Syndicate Being Formed to Purchase the Entire Issue.

NEW YORK, January 31.—The bank officials here have reached the conclusion that it would be a mistake to allow the Government bond issue to fail for lack of support. They fear if the issue is not taken Carlisle will endeavor to secure authority to coin the seigniorage silver in the Treasury. They also fear the failure would have a bad effect upon the present government, therefore President King of the Union Trust Company has undertaken to form a syndicate and bid for the entire issue at an up-set price. It is understood Russell Sage and President Olcott of the Central Trust Company will co-operate, and the movement is likely to be successful. The syndicate has already agreed to take $25,000,000.

THE MARY BROWN.

Diligent Search Reveals No Trace of the Missing Schooner.

PORT TOWNSEND, January 31.—The revenue cutter Wolcott returned today from a search in northern waters for the sealing schooner Mary Brown and her crew of ten men, who left Sand Point, Alaska, for Victoria, October 3d. Captain Roath of the Wolcott says he found absolutely no trace of the schooner or men, although he claims he made a most diligent search along the Vancouver island coast nearly as far north as Cape Scott, and inquired of numerous Indians and whites along shore, but none of them had heard or seen anything whatever of the missing schooner. It is now considered altogether probable that the sealer went down in a gale with all on board and no trace of her will ever again be heard

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Allen and Hoar Support Stewart's Resolution—The Internal Revenue and Income Tax Attached to the Wilson Bill.

WASHINGTON, January 31.—In the Senate Stewart's resolution denying the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to issue the proposed bonds came up. Allen took the floor to reply to Sherman's argument of yesterday. He declared the authority to issue bonds under the Resumption Act was not a continuing power and ceased with its first exercise.

Hoar followed Allen. He said: "In my opinion bonds issued and sold by the Treasury Department under existing circumstances will be illegal, and will carry no constitutional or lawful obligation on the part of the Government for their payment."

In the House the day was devoted to debate under the five-minute rule, the whole internal revenue amendment being open to amendment.

Tate offered an amendment striking out the sections relating to the tax on whisky, increase of the bonded period and the manner of collecting the tax. Tate explained that if the amendment was adopted the law would remain as it is.

Outhwaite offered an amendment to an amendment to increase tax on whisky from 90 cents to $1, when in bond one year, $1 10 when in bond two years, $1 30 when in bond three years, the bonded period to cease at the end of that time. He said he did not intend to press the amendment. The provisions of the bill are wrong.

In the interest of reform, a few days ago, the bounty on sugar was abolished. Now it was proposed to give a bounty to the whisky industry, to increase the bonded period from three years to eight at a cost of 10 cents a gallon.

Outhwaite's substitute was lost—12 to 87.

Dingley's amendment to restore the provisions of the existing law, with reference to the bonded period, making it 3 instead of 8 years, was carried—105 to 80. This leaves the bonded period as it is and increases the tax from 90 cents to $1.

Bland's substitute to permit the extension of the bonded period beyond three years by paying into the United States Treasury the cost of exportation and reimportation was lost.

The Internal Revenue bill, including income tax, has been adopted as an amendment to the Tariff bill—175 to 56.

THE BOND ISSUE.

Senator Stewart introduced a resolution in the Senate declaring the bond issue unauthorized by law, and addressed the Senate in its favor. Senator Sherman opposed the resolution and severely criticised the attacks on the credit of the country and maintained that the Secretary has full authority to issue bonds.

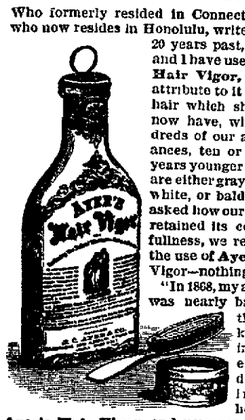

Mr. Sherman's reference to the credit of the nation is of course to create a sentiment in favor of issuing bonds and relieving Wall street from its gold congestion. No one questions the credit of the Nation. It can issue notes without interest which will pass current and on a par with gold anywhere. Senator Stewart proposed early in the special session to issue such notes to relieve the financial stringency, but Senator Sherman and his goldbug friends would not have it that way. Neither would they permit the coinage of the silver bullion in the Treasury or even the seigniorage on that bullion, to meet the deficiency in the Treasury. Nothing would satisfy them but interest-bearing bonds which will not increase the circulating medium of the country one dollar.

Senator Sherman is the acknowledged leader of the Republican party in the Senate and one of its idols outside the Senate. He is opposed to the coinage of silver, opposed to the issuance of greenbacks, and opposed to any and everything that will make money more plentiful, and in favor of bonds. This is one of the men the organizers of the Reno Republican Club reverence as demigods and are endeavoring to get the people of this State to bow low before and adore.

What can Nevada hope for from a party that acknowledges such leaders and whose actions are controlled by such men as John Sherman?

A Gentleman

Who formerly resided in Connecticut, but who now resides in Honolulu, writes: "For 20 years past, my wife and I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and we attribute to it the dark hair which she and I now have, while hundreds of our acquaintances, ten or a dozen years younger than we, are either gray-headed, white, or bald. When asked how our hair has retained its color and fullness, we reply, 'By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor—nothing else.'"

"In 1868, my affianced was nearly bald, and the hair kept falling out every day. I induced her to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and very soon, it not only checked any further loss of hair, but produced an entirely new growth, which has remained luxuriant and glossy to this day. I can recommend this preparation to all in need of a genuine hair-restorer. It is all that it is claimed to be."—Antonio Alarrun, Bastrop, Tex.

THE Midwinter Fair Examiner, issued last Sunday, consists of seventy pages. it contains a full account of the Fair from its inception to its formal opening, with many illustrations, besides the general news of the day.

THE sugar bounty last year amounted to $8,763,830, and it was distributed among 561 sugar raisers, principally in Louisiana.

MONTANA papers intimate that the silver fight will cause the Republican party to disband in that State.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

DISTRICT COURT SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for Washoe county. The State of Nevada sends to Dora B. Moulton, Greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Page H. Moulton as plaintiff in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to recover a judgment and decree of Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between you and plaintiff on the grounds of extreme cruelty on your part, and refusal by you to live with plaintiff. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially refered. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Reno, this 30th day of January, A. D. 1894. JOHN BOWMAN, Attorney for Plaintiff.

THE MIDWINTER FAIR.

Scenes on Opening Day—The Rush and Crush — Incomplete Exhibits — The Nevada Building—A Mishap.

At last!—The great Midwinter Fair has had its opening day. The button that in motion the the gigantic engines has been pressed. All ceremonies have been gone through with and the Fair is a reality. The public gave ample proof of its enthusiasm on Saturday when something like 80,000 people flocked to the grounds, each eager to present a shining half dollar instead of the customary ticket. In that struggling mass of humanity bruises and frocks amounted to naught.

IT WAS OPENING DAY

And everyone was happy and extremely good natured. The small boy, and not a few who had outgrown that title, who was not provided with one-half the almighty dollar, allowed interest to lead him to an unprotected part of the high fence and, nothing daunted, climbed monkey fashion over that twelve feet of smooth tongue and grooved impediment to his pleasures, and did not meet his Waterloo when the four strands of fierce barbed wire presented itself, but veni, vidi, vici, and that charmed enclosure was his to inspect at pleasure. Many discovered defective turnstyle exits, and a few more venturesome than the rest removed portions of the south fence affording an entrance to a large number. The venturesome ones were taken in charge by the Guards and have learned ere this, no doubt, that it pays to be honest. In all that vast assemblage not one serious accident. The crowd at the gates and at many places of amusement was so great that it is to be wondered at that nothing more serious than a few ladies fainting did occur.

THE SCENIC RAILWAY

was the scene of an especially large crowd. After once passing through that gate it was necessary to stop and make a thorough examination of one's self to be certain a limb or even a head had not been torn from its foundation and left in that surging mass of breathless people each struggling to gain the goal. A ride on one of those flying cars, to be whirled along at break-neck speed for three-fourths of a mile amply repay anyone for all discomfiture experienced. The view is a shifting scence of glittering buildings, sparkling fountains, green slopes and waving palms combined with an ever moving body of pedestrians. Not even the moaning and groaning of the Firth wheel or the demonical shrieking and weird mutterings of Dante's Inferno can be heard above the rushing of the wind and the rattle of flying wheels. There is a whiz, a roar, a flash, and you dash into a long black tunnel. The conductor accommodatingly slows up while the inky darkness lasts, but there must be an end to all things, and suddenly there is a flash of light and away we go up hill and down in such rapid succession that the mind only begins to comprehend one is ascending when with greater speed the car plunges down again, dashes around a curve and under the building and stops with a jerk. You alight and wonder whether you have been dreaming or not. The car is soon loaded and away with its precious freight. This ride delights and invigorates those of the age of six, sixteen and sixty alike. When you come to the Fair don't miss it.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

From the top of the Firth Wheel the view of the grounds is a succession of dream pictures, and while gazing down one involuntarily draws back with a shudder lest they be precipitated into the grinning jaws of Dante's Inferno. Those hideous, restless eyes and soul-harrassing noises issuing from within makes one dread the possibility of an encounter with the inward mechanism of such a gruesome place. There are many catch-penny contrivances to puzzle and amuse. Of course the center of attraction is Cairo street. Our genial Sam Davis is doing a rushing business at the '49 Camp and these places of amusement are dividing honors with the dancing girls of the Orient.

INCOMPLETE EXHIBITS.

I am sorry to say the main buildings are in no wise ready for inspection, with the exception of the Fine Arts Building and the Administration Building. The Liberal Arts building has very few exhibits in place.

The most beautiful and interesting booth is the Austria-Hungarian.

The exquisite display of glass and china is superb. There will be other exhibits equally as beautiful no doubt, but at present this grand display, surrounded as it is by carpenter's benches, lumber, packing cases and a confused heap of various things, might be likened to a delicate tea rose upon a dried and withered rose tree. Work in the building is being pushed with all possible haste and everything will be in place by the last of February or first of March. Machinery Hall has several hundred cases yet to be opened and put in place. Horticultural Hall is even worse than the one first mentioned. The huge dome is not finished and only a few important exhibits are in place. These give one an idea of what the whole will be when all is in order. It will certainly be a very beautiful and interesting sight. Some of the county buildings have everything arranged and it is a relief to enter them.

NEVADA'S BUILDING

Is finished and it will be ready to receive friends before many days. The various exhibits are not in place yet, but with such an enterprising young gentleman as manager we may rest assured no time will be wasted. When our neat little building is in readiness it will be a credit to the State and the people may look upon it with a feeling of pride. The building is somewhat remote from the main court but everyone will want to see what the little Silver State has to show for herself.

THE DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

Saturday was the finest and most elaborate ever attempted on this coast, the only mishap being a little mismanagement during the burning of the portrait of Mr. M. H. de Young. It was far the largest set piece and of course the masterpiece. When it was lighted the smoke from a pinwheel previously burned had not cleared. The great piece was burned in a dense cloud of smoke and the crowning feature of the evening's entertainment was not seen by the vast assembly.

While Mrs. Leland Stanford's private car was at Vina, Cal., Saturday evening, and that lady and her attendants inside, a crowd of toughs marched up and down in front of it, firing revolvers and using vile language. The mob dispersed before the citizens arrived on the scene.

A receiver has been applied for by the Central Trust Company of New York for the Colorado Midland road, as it will to-day default interest on $4,000,000 of bonds.

The Student Record says Professor Wilson of the State University will leave soon for the Midwinter Fair where he will assume charge of the Experiment Station exhibit.

GREAT business methods now prevail in Washington, says the Denver News. With at least $55,000,000 of seigniorage silver in the Treasury, upon which money can be issued bearing no interest, Secretary Carlisle proposes to go into debt $50,000,000 to accommodate Wall Street bankers.

A TRANSCONTINENTAL BOULEVARD.

Dr. John T. Nagle's Plan For Furnishing Employment to Men Out of Work.

Dr. John T. Nagle, registrar of vital statistics, has come out with a novel suggestion for furnishing work to the unemployed. He advocates the building of a great transcontinental boulevard to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in the building of which each state through which the boulevard passed should contribute its share for the employment of labor.

"I have had the idea in mind for some time," Dr. Nagle said, "and I feel sure that gigantic as would be the scheme it would pay in the end. Such a boulevard, laid out with a macadamized roadway and with ornamental trees along its walks, would certainly enhance the value of property in its immediate vicinity. It would furnish a driveway for the owners of fast horses all over the country, and the bicycle riders would be there by the thousands. There might be a million of these riders on the road at one time. The boulevard would be one of the greatest sights in Christendom. There would be inns at different points along its entire length. Mansions would be built along its route too. The construction of such a roadway would give employment to hundreds of thousands of workmen and keep them busy for two years at least.

"I do not believe that it is a mere Utopian dream. Anybody who has been in the City of Mexico and has seen the superb boulevard leading for miles out from that city, with its giant eucalyptus trees and other monuments, can readily imagine what a magnificent thing such a boulevard would be. Engineers will tell you that the idea is practical, and that the cost would be nothing compared to the benefit that would accrue from its construction."

CLEVER AND UNIQUE.

A Counterfeit $50 Bill That Is a Pen and Ink Sketch on Government Paper.

Thomas T. Callahan of the government secret service department was in Brooklyn the other day looking for an exceedingly clever counterfeiter, who recently counterfeited a $50 bill, using only pen and ink. The paper was the regular silk fiber paper, made only by the government. The counterfeit bill was passed on a New York bank and was only detected when it reached the subtreasury and it was found that the word "Series" had been omitted. There is no clue to the artist.

This unique counterfeiter is supposed to be a man who has for years defied the efforts of the United States secret service officers to detect him. There are specimens of his work on exhibition in Washington. His work has always been so perfect that it was almost impossible to detect a bill he made from the genuine article. It is all done with a pen and ink and on the same quality paper that is used in the genuine bills. The great difficult in the way of his capture is that he has no tools. He is an artist. He sits down and draws a bill as an artist draws a picture. Even if he was captured in his room with a bill in his possession, there might be no evidence to convict him, as he could say he had received it from somebody else. It must require a long time for him to complete a single bill, and the skill he displays at his work is an indication that if he devoted his talents to honest employment he would make more money.

Transatlantic Mail Service.

The discussion of the question of American mail routes, which is perennially revived in the English newspapers, has at last taken a common sense turn. The British postal authorities are being roundly denounced because they refuse to send the mails in fast steamers unless they carry the British flag. Twice last month the Saturday mails were sent on a slow Cunarder, when they might have reached New York two days earlier if dispatched by the American line. The fast German boats leaving Southampton on Sunday and Thursday get no mail, except specially addressed correspondence. The British authorities persist in limiting the mails to America to two per week, although four weekly mails are sent from New York. The protest is becoming so loud that it is barely possible that a reform may be effected in the course of time. —London Cable.

An Unwelcome Visitor.

Word has been sent to the courts of Europe that the shah of Persia intends to visit Berlin, St. Petersburg, Paris and Vienna next spring. He will start on his journey in May or June and will remain in Europe several months. The rulers whom he is to honor are in an unhappy state of mind already on account of the proposed visit. No living sovereign, in all probability, is a more unwelcome guest than the shah, but his cousins in Europe are obliged to receive him and the honors due to his rank. Entertaining him is more expensive than entertaining any other monarch living, and time is almost a legal tender. Correspondent.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a Dye, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing Tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

☞ Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Skin Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 6 for $5.00. Soap, 50c. per jar; 6 for $2.50.

LINCOLN AFTER ELECTION.

His Pathetic Leave Taking of His Old Law Office and Neighbors.

I was in 1860 a reporter on the New York Times and was designated as the one to go to the house of Mr. Lincoln. I did so, and subsequently, after the election, I lived at the house with him for four weeks prior to his going to Washington, and when he went there for the inauguration I accompanied him. I had ample opportunity to study him in every relation of life. He was a magnetic talker, an excellent story teller, but above all a square man, to whom two and two made four, all the time, and no amount of trickery could ever make it three and ninety-nine hundredths. He always said precisely what he thought and nothing else.

I remember distinctly the night before he left his home in Springfield. It was raining desperately. I saw him hunt up a lantern and then get a candle and put it into the glass case and light it. He took his old long overcoat, which I thought at that time a funny looking garment, but which I see all the dudes wearing now, and opening the door he went out into the rain and darkness. I followed him, and we picked our way through the unpaved slippery streets until we got to his office. It was a very little office. There were a stove, some shelves laden with books, and a picture of a judge of the supreme court, and, by the way, I never went into a lawyer's office that I did not find a picture of a judge of the supreme court or of the court of appeals. There is always sure to be one or the other.

Well, when we got there he put his lantern down, and walking up to a table and musing, running his hand over the books there, he said, "Well, goodby, old friends." He stood a minute in silence, then furtively wiped away a tear from his eye, walked out, locked the door, and home he went. That did not amount to much, but it showed that the man had a little sentiment about him.

The next day it was raining great guns, but everybody roundabout for 20 miles had turned out to see the president elect start for Washington. I remember him as he stood just under the eave of the house wearing his old high hat and the water dripping down upon it from above. The crowd wanted a speech, and he gave it to them. It was brief and was about like this—that for reasons beyond his understanding he had been selected to bear what he feared was a burden greater than that which had been put upon the shoulders of any citizen since this country was started, save possibly Washington, and all he had to say was: "If I have offended any of you, forgive me. I go to do my best. I ask your prayers, Friends and neighbors, goodby. I hope to see you soon again," He started away. Everybody cried, and the rain [illegible] and he never went [illegible] Lecture on [illegible]

Branding Criminals In China.

Finding that long terms of imprisonment and flogging do not check robbery and piracy and systematic practice of imposition on strangers in the nature of thievery in the Soochow district, the authorities have resolved to try branding. For the first offense the thief is to be branded on the right cheek, and for the second on the left cheek. The brand is to be the Chinese sign for the word thief. As the Chinese have a superstitious horror of all facial disfigurement, the belief is entertained that the new punishment will check the criminal element.—Sacramento Record-Union.

The Pullman Brothers.

Albert Denton Pullman, George M. Pullman's brother, who died near Chicago recently, was the mechanical genius of the family that have made their fame in the manufacture of sleeping cars. Understanding as he did every part of the art of cabinet making, he was able to superintend all the details in the construction department of the great Pullman industry. There are four brothers surviving—George M. Pullman of Chicago, the Rev. R. H. Pullman of Baltimore, the Rev. James M. Pullman of Lynn, Mass., and Charles L. Pullman of Chicago.—Exchange.

The Glutton Lakes

Navigation of the great lakes during the season of 1893 resulted in the loss of 123 lives. The number of vessels lost was 53, with an aggregate tonnage of 24,258 and valued at $1,040,400. Partial losses by strandings, collisions and fires bring the total up $3,112,539. The shallow waters of Lake Erie claimed nearly half the lives lost, Lake Huron being second.—New York Tribune.

No woman has any real admiration for a man's presence unless he has a good physique—legs and arms well filled out. You can't be well looking if you suffer from any of the diseases caused by a disordered liver or impure blood — dyspepsia, biliousness, and scrofulous affections. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that cures these cases. It's the only remedy that is guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money refunded. Medical science stamps it absolutely potent as a blood cleanser, strength-restorer and flesh-builder.

A CERTAINTY OF SUCCESS.

WE will construct and equip a iron, bronze or nickel-steel foundry or bauxite aluminum reduction plants of any capacity desired, for any responsible party, furnish cupola, refining furnace, all machinery, tools and erect the necessary buildings. We will operate the plant ten to thirty days and turn it over in proper working order under guarantee of satisfactory results as to capacity, quality of products and cost: the loss to be ours in case of failure.

Why experiment when you can have a certainty?

☞ All questions on metals, furnace or analytical work will be readily and conclusively solved by corresponding with or visiting us.
